§19-01 Definitions. For the purpose of this chapter, the meaning of terms shall be as follows (unless the context specifically indicates otherwise):

BOD (denoting Biochemical Oxygen Demand). "BOD" shall mean the laboratory determination of the quantity of oxygen utilized in the biochemical oxidation of organic matter in a given time and at a specified temperature. It is expressed in parts per million (ppm) or (mg/L) of oxygen used in a period of five days at 20°C.

Catchbasin. "Catchbasin" shall mean a structure or device designed to collect and convey stormwater to a storm or combined sewer. It captures some of the debris and heavy solids carried by the flow in a settlement chamber and stores this material for periodic removal.

Combined sewage. "Combined sewage" shall mean sewage originating from sanitary and/or industrial wastewater and stormwater.

Combined sewer. "Combined sewer" shall mean a sewer receiving sanitary and/or industrial wastewater, commingled with stormwater.

Commissioner. "Commissioner" shall mean the Commissioner of Environ-
