

Bob Avakian
G. Ryan
M. Lavan
PYD

Subject: Conference on Public Health Impact of September 11: Hold the Date

DEP-RECEIVED
THE COMMISSIONER

A one-day conference on the public health impact of September 11, 2001, will be held on March 14, 2002, at the Hunter College Playhouse Auditorium, 68th Street and Lexington Avenue in Manhattan. Time: registration 8:15 AM to 9:00 AM; sessions from 9:00 AM to 4:45 PM. Attendees will make their own arrangements for lunch from 12:00 PM to 1:15 PM. Conference is free of charge.

2002 FEB 14 P 2:57
②

The goal of the conference is to begin the process of reflecting upon lessons that we have learned from September 11 and the implications for charting NYC's public health policy in the years to come. Conference sessions will focus on the impact of September 11 events in these major areas: Public Health Infrastructure and Emergency Response, Environmental Health and Occupational Health, Delivery of Health and Social Services and Mental Health.

The Program in Urban Public Health at Hunter College Schools of Health Professions is coordinating the conference. Conference Cosponsors include The New York Academy of Medicine, the Center for Occupational and Environmental Medicine of the Department of Community and Preventive Medicine of the Mount Sinai School of Medicine, the CUNY Urban Health Collaborative, The New York City Department of Health, the Columbia University School of Public Health, the Council of the Environment of New York City, the Medical and Health Research Association of NYC, Inc., the MPH Program of the Department of Health and Nutrition Sciences at Brooklyn College, and the U.S. Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

To register for this conference, please visit the website at <http://www.hunter.cuny.edu/health/uph/911.htm> and complete the on-line registration form. If you prefer you can complete the form shown below and return by fax to 212-481-5260 or mail it to the Urban Public Health Program, Hunter College CUNY, Schools of Health Professions, 425 East 25th Street, New York, NY 10010. Updated information on the conference presenters, agenda and additional cosponsors will be posted to this site as it becomes available.

Please email inquiries on this conference to Dr. Vincent Coluccio at vcoluccio@hvc.rr.com.

Conference Registration Form - Conference on Public Health Impact of September 11, 2001

Name:

Title:

Institution:

Department:

Address:

City:

State:

Zip:

Email Address:

The afternoon agenda will consist of three separate sessions on the topics listed below. Please indicate which session you wish to attend:

- ☐ Health and Social Service Delivery
- ☐ Mental Health
- ☐ Environmental and Occupational Health