Paul- This past Wed. I attended a meeting re. reopening PS234&PS/IS89 in late Jan., early Feb.. Once again the issue of dust coming off the trucks to and from the barge came up. Although, the wetting down has become better the parents/UFT claim that it is inconsistent. PLS. pass this along to the responsible parties at the next H&S mtg. It might become an issue in the reopening debate. The issue is german to out door play at PS/IS 89. Thanks

At senior staff this morning, I mentioned our phone conversation yesterday with NYCDOH and Law.

The Commissioner strongly suggests that some decon. be done on the interior of these vehicles while they are still at Fresh Kills (he suggested washing the interior) and he also thinks that we should invite representatives of the insurance industry to meet with us and hopefully agree with the protocol we are instituting. I defer to you as to whether the first suggestion is do-able; I'd defer to Law on the second (Gabe has obviously talked to the plaintiffs in the lawsuit; I am dubious about whether the insurance industry will "agree" to anything; the exercise may create more difficulty rather than less). Judah - could you talk to Gabe about this aspect please?

Mike - I don't know how you and Krish feel about this, but you should probably touch base with the Commissioner before you make your final recommendations to NYCDOH about revising the protocol.
