

USA TODAY, MONDAY, OCTOBER 22, 2001

Grim recovery at Ground Zero

Bodies found: Firefighters carry a body, one of as many as nine found Sunday, out of the rubble of the World Trade Center in New York. The toll at the site stands at 4,470 missing, with another 460 bodies recovered thus far. Next Sunday, a memorial service for victims' families will be held at Ground Zero, Mayor Rudy Giuliani said.

CITY_21MC100_011831432